computime timevision manual

TimeVision clocking in system is an uncompromising yet cost effective solution to time management. The easily installed clocking terminal and instantly useable software interface ensure that the clocking system can be painlessly introduced to your office environment. Being non contact, these have proven to be much more reliable and easier to use than swipe cards. Employees clock in and out by simply holding their proximity card or fob in front of the clocking terminal. In the absence of a network system or a computer on site, the clocking records can be downloaded manually via a USB port within the clocking terminal on to a memory stick. I found Computime website to be easy to navigate and it is easy to find all of the information on the products and services that Computime offer. The power point presentation produced by Computime about their TimeVision Clocking system was very informative. It was clear from the information provided that TimeVision Plus was the right product for my company's needs. The price was incredibly competitive and the after sales support was prompt and friendly. I would totally recommend Computime to any other companies looking for a cost effective and reliable clocking system. I found Computime website to contain all the information I needed which made my task to make the correct decision very easy. We opted for TimeVision Plus because it provided us with additional functionalities we could benefit from and within days from order the package arrived. The clocking terminal was easy to install and setting up the software proved to be quite straightforward. I did have to use the helpdesk on some occasions and found them very helpful and friendly. I would definitely recommend Computime. They have exceeded all of our expectations and objectives. The new computerised system from Computime has met our objectives and more. I feel that the price of the machine was competitive and represents good value for money.http://www.mahalaxmiornament.com.np/userfiles/89-yamaha-waverunner-manual.xml

I would be happy to recommend Computime to other companies. The package arrived fast and the installation was carried out without any fuss. The software was fairly selfexplanatory to set up although if assistance was required the technicians proved very helpful and available. We chose TimeVision plus because of its flexibility and with the fingerprint recognition clocking terminal, it eliminates any possibility of employee fraud. With a growing business we needed a system that wont just be suitable for our needs today but with our future needs as well. The flexibility of the package allows us to add more terminals, more shift patters, more pay rates, more sites and more employees without changing systems. The ability to prebook absences is advantageous and cuts down on the manual manipulation of figures. Also being able to automatically export a CSV file of the hours, for payroll purposes reduces the risk of manual error. TimeVision Plus has definitely matched and exceeded our objectives and expectations and when you consider the timesaved and the ease of use of the system it is priced competitively. I would definitely recommend Computime to anyone. The website was very easy to navigate and all the information on there was very useful in helping me to decide which product to choose. I phoned Computime and spoke with Ron and he was very helpful with my enquiry. The price of the system was competitive with other systems on the market but TimeVision covered all of the objectives we required so I made a purchase. The product arrived very quick and matched my expectation. The clocking terminal itself was very easy to install however I came across some problems while installing and setting the software up. I contacted the helpdesk and found them especially helpful to resolve my problems. I really like the system even though I am not using it to its full potential yet. I would recommend TimeVision and Computime to other people and businesses.
